1885 IN REVIEW

History of the Milan Area Schools

In the 1830's the people of Milan decided they needed a school, and so the first schoolhouse was built in 1837. It was a single room log building with a long table down the middle for the students and a smaller table for the teacher. When it became too crowded, the building was sold and the school moved from the 100 block on the south side of East Main Street to another site nearby. This too became crowded, so they sold once again and moved to the corner of Main and Ferman where Dancer's is now located. In 1882 a new school was built on the corner of Hurd and Ferman. This brick structure consisted of two rooms until it was later expanded to six rooms and a library.

In the 1899-1900 school year, there were 84 students enrolled in the high school and only two teachers. There were 41 students enrolled in grammar school and only one teacher. The primary department had four teachers and 225 students. Luckily only 72% showed up for class on a daily average.

On January 12, 1900 the schoolhouse burned down. Another more modern school was constructed at the same location. A new addition was completed in 1926 and occupied a year later. The new wing consisted of a library, a first aid room, a gymnasium/auditorium, and more space for classrooms.

The Michigan Avenue Elementary School was completed and ready for occupancy on October 7, 1948. Four years later a seven room wing was added. Two more rooms were added in 1957, which was also the year that the Varn D. Paddock Elementary School was completed. Mr. Paddock was a former physics and chemistry teacher and also a principal for 35 years.

The country schools that had flowered in the 1940's and early 50's died out in 1954 when the Milan Area Schools district was formed. The children were bussed into town for school. To make things easier, three small schools were built in the outlying neighborhoods. Jones School was named after Robert Jones who taught math and was also Administrative Assistant in charge of attendance. Brainard was named after Glenn Brainard who taught woodshop and metal working, coached football, basketball, baseball and track, had been Athletic Director for several years, and had served as Business Manager and Transportation Director. The third school was named after George Allen who taught chemistry, American government and agriculture.

In 1958, for a cost of $1,500,000, the new Milan High School was built on the corner of Miller and Marvin. It contained fourteen classrooms, a gym, library, cafeteria, kitchen, clinic, teacher's lounge, and administrative offices. It housed grades nine through twelve. The old high school was used for sixth through eighth grades until the Milan Middle School on Platt Road was completed in 1969. The old high school was then sold, and a fourteen room wing was added on to the new high school. The three outlying schools were doubled in size.

In the fall of 1963, the second and third grade wings were added to Paddock. Later that year, the millage was defeated and the outlying schools had to be closed. They were reopened in 1965.

Programs

In 1908 a group of high school girls organized a small ensemble, the first in Milan. By 1918 the first band was established. The girl's band and glee club were introduced into the curriculum in 1921.

By 1925 the athletic program consisted of men's basketball, women's basketball, and baseball. (Speedball was introduced in 1924.) The first football team was established in 1927 and ended the season with one win, one tie, and four losses.

When the outlying schools closed in 1963, the athletic programs, art, music and gym were cut from the curriculum. The staff dropped by 30% and Superintendent Beale resigned. Clayton Symons was hired to replace him, and in 1965 the three small schools were reopened, and the special classes and the athletic programs were reinstated.

In the late 60's and early 70's, the home economics and vocational programs were expanded. A cooperative program with Saline was developed in 1975 along with work release. The languages were expanded, and advanced biology and environmental awareness classes were added. The credits available rose from 53 to 86. In 1969 the pool was opened and swimming and wrestling were added to the athletic program. In 1975 women's basketball was restored, and volleyball, baseball, and track were also added.

Typical Day

The first class to graduate from Milan High School was the class of 1885. This was the same year that Milan became a village. The graduating class consisted of five girls and one boy.

In twelfth grade the students studied Caesar, geometry, literature, pedagogy, astronomy and Shakespeare. The courses of study for eleventh grade included physics, rhetoric, Latin, English, history, Algebra II, botany, Roman history, geology, and contemporary authors such as Milton. In tenth grade the students studied civic government, general history, orthography, bookkeeping, and Scott and his contemporaries. Sixth through ninth grade courses included spelling, arithmetic, geography, grammar, history, and writing. In second through fifth grade reading, spelling, arithmetic, language, geography, and writing were the courses of study. The first graders studied reading, spelling, numbers, physical education, and language.

The grades were done in percentages with grade cards handed out at the end of each semester. The possible grades were E (excellent), G (good), M (medium), P (poor), and F (failure). The grade that a student was in was determined by how bright he or she was and not by his or her age.

Classes started at 9:00 and lasted until 4:00. Each class lasted about ten minutes and lunch went from noon until 1:00. On exam days the students came in before school and started the test. If they began early enough, they might have completed two exams in one day.

Most of the children walked to school every day, and it was often below zero weather. After the country schools closed, a local gentleman was hired to drive the kids to school because it was cheaper than busing. Promptness was very important. A half hour before the classes started, the janitor would ring a bell and the students would form two lines in the basement, one for girls and one for boys. Each morning the fire would be started by one of the older boys, or by the teacher if she wanted extra pay. Drinking water, which came from an outside pump, was kept in a pail with one dipper. Sometimes in the winter the students would save all of their recess time until lunch and go skating or sledding when they finished eating.

A large graphic of a pyramid composed of the word 'SENIORS' repeated many times, set against a starry night sky background. The pyramid is formed by the word 'SENIORS' repeated many times, with the words arranged in a way that they form a large, symmetrical shape. The background is dark with many small white stars and a few larger, brighter stars. The overall effect is one of a vast, starry night sky.

SENIOR LEADERS

Seniors served as the officers of student council in 1985. Margaret Marcantonio served as President, Julie Spurr was Vice-President, Amy McCloud was Secretary, and Sue Gross was Treasurer.

Some of the officers' duties were to approve all activities of student council, serve as Homecoming committee chairpersons, and act as S.A.D.D. officers.

With 11 years of experience between them, the 1985 senior class officers knew what they were doing and together led the senior class through floor building in the fall to graduation day in the spring.

Todd Skaggs, class President, and Connie Markgraff, class Secretary, each served the class of '85 for four years. Cindy Tolles was Vice-President for two years and Wendy Harper served as Treasurer for one year. All four put a lot of effort into the class and gave of themselves completely to help make the high school years of the class of 1985 the best.

Student Council Officers: Margaret Marcantonio, President; Julie Spurr, Vice President; Amy McCloud, Secretary; Sue Gross, Treasurer.

Only those students currently enrolled in a vocational class are eligible to apply for job placement in this program. Each student works a minimum of 15 hrs. a week on the job. Along with gaining credit for school, these students also receive regular payment for their efforts. Some of the students are released early from school to go to their appointed positions. Seniors are the easiest to place in the program, simply because their schedules are usually not as tight, although sometimes juniors are placed in the program. The work they are given primarily relates to their vocational class.

At the present time there are a dozen Milan High Students enrolled in the program. Seven are placed in the office education area, another in child care, one in automotive, one in health occupations, and another stationed in an automotive dealership. Callie Hall is presently employed as a receptionist at Wedemeyer Electronics Supply Company. Donna Lay works at Hydromatic's as a typist and secretary. Stacey Lyon is with the Milan City Offices. Tammy Peterson is currently employed at Ann Arbor Insulation and Maintenance Company. Daneen Smith is a receptionist at the Milan Branch of the Ann Arbor Bank & Trust. Renea Thompson is a clerical worker at the Milan Middle School. Jennie Trout is with Gelman Sciences in Ann Arbor. Mike Scherrenhelm is presently working at Scherrenhelm Farms. Bruce Rose is working in the area of graphics at Hydromatic. Holli Esch is serving in the child care area at The Little People Playhouse. COLLEGE AND CAREER CHOICES

The senior year is a busy time. Most seniors are bombarded with pamphlets from colleges, armed forces, and training programs. At this time the Seniors must decide what colleges offer the best programs and what type of career they want to have. ODDS AND ENDS

A senior's year is full of odds and ends, such as; senior pictures, which were taken two weeks before school and were back in time for Christmas.

On one chilly morning, the senior class managed to struggle into school early for a senior group picture that will be a two page layout in the yearbook.

The senior class voted on caps and gowns towards the middle of the school year. The colors chosen were red and black.

ODDS AND ENDS

More senior odds and ends include ordering graduation announcements. These were ordered in October, and they are being designed to commemorate Milan High's 100 year centennial.

And, as always, the teacher's favorites, next to yearbooks, of course, are senior memory books and composite pictures that appear in the spring and invariably float through classes requiring all seniors to autograph them.

In December, 1984, three former Milan High School students were killed in a tragic car accident. The youth of Milan were shocked by the deaths of Jay Lynn, and Eddie and Jimmy Caudill. We dedicate this verse in their memory.

Stairway to Heaven

And as we wind down the road
Our shadows taller than our soul
There walks a lady we all know
Who shines white light and wants to show
How everything still turns into gold
And if you listen very closely
The tune will come at last
When we are one and one is all
To be a rock and not to fall.

SENIOR POEM AND MOTTO

"Looking Back"

by Wendy Harper

We, the hundredth class to move on,
know we'll be missed when we're gone.
High school comes and goes so fast,
but while it lasted, we sure had a blast.
Looking back on the times we've shared,
we'll never forget how much we cared.
We've made it through the good and bad,
and we'll never forget the fun we've had.
We've grown together and learned a lot,
and we'll never forget the friends we've got.

When we go our separate ways,
we hope we'll meet again some day.
We've waited so long for this day to draw near,
It's hard to believe it brings a little fear.

Who knows what the future holds,
but we're sure to survive,
because we are the class of 1985!

We know not what the future holds,
but we know who holds the future.

A large graphic of a pyramid composed of the word 'JUNIORS' repeated many times, set against a dark, starry background. The pyramid is formed by multiple rows of the word 'JUNIORS' in a white, sans-serif font. The words are arranged in a way that they appear to recede into the distance, creating a strong sense of perspective. The background is black with numerous small white dots, resembling a starry night sky. The overall composition is symmetrical and visually striking.

Juniors

Junior class officers: Steve Brinklow, President; Jenni Trout, Treasurer; Marie Young, Secretary, Jeff Carbeck, Vice President.

The Class of '86 started out their Junior year by having a car wash and bake sale. This brought in some more money to help underwrite the prom and gave many class members a Saturday of good fun.

The next task was the Homecoming Dance. As usual, the class broke into committees consisting of music, decorations, set-up and clean-up, and tickets. People worked very hard on all of these and on the other Homecoming festivities. Our Class also won the "Spirit Jug" at the Homecoming assembly.

The major task which had to be accomplished this year was putting on the prom. Again committees were formed with "place" and "music" making the first decisions. The Ann Arbor Inn was selected for this year's dinner dance, and Spindle Sound will provide the music for the evening.

Smaller committees were formed including decorations, selecting a menu, chaperones, photographer, theme, printing, flowers and decorations and finally-favors. All of the committees met in major meetings headed by Keith Bowerman and Wendy Peebles. Everyone worked together in the committees and accomplished a lot. Hopefully the prom of 1985 will be one of the best in school history. We hope to handle things as well our senior year, if not better.

This year, the Class of 1987 has accomplished a great deal. We have held a paper drive and a calendar sale. Both were very successful. We are also planning to have another paper drive this spring. This year we did a fantastic job on our float, with which we took second place. I would like to thank those who helped out on our paper drive, calendar sale, and on the float. We need more class participation, though, on future projects to make them as successful as these.

Karate?

How do I look?

Short and sweet.

What a mouth.

A large, stylized graphic of a pyramid or mountain shape composed of the word 'FRESHMEN' repeated many times in a grid pattern, set against a dark background with white speckles. The text is white and arranged in a way that creates a strong sense of perspective, with the words converging towards a point at the top. The background is black with numerous small white dots, resembling a starry night sky or a textured surface. The overall effect is one of depth and repetition.

FRESHMEN

The freshman class is doing a lot for the 1984-85 student council this year. We won third place in our 1984 Homecoming Floor contest. We sold long sleeved white jerseys with the 1988 year, filled with class member's names, printed on the back. The freshmen wore their shirts with pride!

STUDENT COUNCIL

The 84-85 Student Council had a very successful year. They started off with a great homecoming that boasted the theme "It's prime time for the Big Reds." Then they put on a fun Christmas assembly which was a take off on The Gong Show. Student acts were used to entertain the rest of the student body while judges sat ready to "gong" a bad performance. Members of Student Council served on several committees this year. One of them was the open/closed campus committee and another one dealt with the school policy towards shorts. With plans already being made for next year's group, student council should be even better in years to come.

SADD

"Buckle-up, we need you", was the driving force behind the Milan High School Chapter of Students Against Driving Drunk. They kicked off their seatbelt campaign with a community-wide seatbelt survey. The next stop was an all-school assembly. Even the first graders got in on the act as the students presented the dangers of not wearing seatbelts. On the whole, the chapter had a very successful year.

Leadership, scholarship, citizenship, and character are the four characteristics of a National Honor Society member. This year 30 new inductees were tapped by the group and sponsor, Mr. Steven Porter. The annual ceremony was held for the entire student body and the new members' parents were invited to share their joy.

Some of the activities of N.H.S. are assisting the Milan Jaycees in the annual Christmas food drive and helping with the commencement ceremonies in June.

DRAMA CLUB

Milan High School Drama Club had a very exciting year. Their fall production was titled Our Town written by Thornton Wilder. The club also visited Western Michigan University's Drama Day. Drama Club also helped, like they do every year, with the Milan Jaycee's haunted house. For their spring production they produced The Curious Savage written by John Patrick. Both plays were a success and were viewed by the community as well as the students. Many thanks to Drama Club Advisor, Mr. Holden, and Technical Advisor, Mr. Stephen Hall.

Mob scene

Face front Kim!

The 1984 Marching Band had a challenging season this year. They had to adjust to a new director, Walter Sangster, and to a smaller sized band. They made both transitions well, and when they stepped off the line at the first football game, they sounded as good as ever.

The band did several things this year besides marching at all home games. They marched in the Milan Fair Parade and in the Homecoming Parade. They also went to an EMU game for Band Night.

So, in spite of a smaller sized band and a new director, everyone worked together to make it a great year.

The Concert Band, not to be outdone by the Symphonic Band, also went to district festival and received a II rating in 1985. Concert Band is small in size but still put on many excellent concerts in the course of the year. They are under the direction of Mr. Walter Sangster, a newcomer to Milan. His fine conducting and their fine playing led to a very successful year.

1985 was an excellent year for the Symphonic Band under the direction of the new conductor, Mr. Walter Sangster. The band's high point of the year was a district festival rating of I allowing the band to go to state festival and receive a I rating again. The Symphonic Band also put on many concerts including a Christmas concert, a spring concert, and a centennial concert at the Paddock Centennial festival. No trips were taken by the band this year, but there are possibilities for a trip next year.

Ingrid and Mom?

She's laughing now but . . .

Did you ever notice a morley crew hanging around Mrs. Kirby's room after school? Well, that was the 1985 Milanium Staff with advisors Mrs. Julie Thompson and Mrs. Srella Kirby and editor Ann Mehringer.

Laying out pages, taking pictures, and interviewing people are just a few of the jobs of this small but dedicated group.

With this year being the centennial, the staff had a great time using this as their theme and revolving around it. Special thanks to Shelley Dubois for all her artwork, hanging out anywhere, give him a little pat on the back for a hard year's work.

Duh!

Gosh, thanks!

Hi guys!

The Junior Varsity and Varsity debate teams had a very successful season. This year's topic, "Resolved: That the federal government should provide employment for all employable United States Citizens living in poverty," proved interesting. The team finished first in the varsity division in the Kensington Valley league with a 7-1 record. They then traveled to the Silver Gavel league to take first place in both the junior varsity and varsity divisions along with many speaker trophies. When districts rolled around the team failed to qualify, but was accepted to State on the basis of their league and tournament records. The four-man team broke into quarterfinals at State and concluded the season by placing sixth in Class B. After State finals, Roger Whitney, the team's first four-year varsity member, competed in the John S. Knight Scholarship contest for top senior debaters. He did extremely well and placed 17 overall out of the 31 contestants.

OFFICE ASSISTANTS

The duties of office assistants are as follows: Gathering attendance slips, recording attendance, and frequently answering the phone. The assistants also do many other jobs such as; making photo copies, running errands, assisting students, delivering packages, sorting mail, delivering passes for the principal, and occasionally typing.

Kim Simecek is hard at work.

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

Library assistants make sure all books, magazines, and vertical files are checked out. They also check to see if the vertical files and magazines are in order. Putting the library cards in order and charging fines are more duties performed by these dedicated students.

Jodie Greene, Kim Moss, and Beth Goudie

AUDIO - VISUAL ASSISTANTS

The A.V. assistants repair minor problems on the overhead projectors, movie projectors, etc. There is a morning assistant who delivers and picks up the equipment to the appropriate classrooms. The afternoon assistant delivers equipment for the evening classes.

The Big Reds got off to a fine 3-1 start and could have been 4-0 with a break against Pinckney. A four game losing streak was hard to take. In that streak Lincoln was the only team to beat the Big Reds badly. The team ended the season by beating Monroe Jefferson, who was ranked in the top 20 in Class B. The offensive line played an important part in the victory. The players pulled together as a team and were not to be denied the final victory of the season.

The co-captains for the 1984 season were Greg Brierley and Steve Sanch. Steve received the Spirit Award and Most Valuable Defensive Player recognition. Richard Suisse was named Most Valuable Offensive Player. Sharing the honors Of Most Improved were Joe McGregor and Ted Tharcher. The Coaches Award went to Doug Thayer and Erik McGovern.

The Junior Varsity Football team closed out their season with a 2-6-1 record. Although plagued by injuries and inexperience, the JV squad gave maximum effort to stay close in every ball game. The Big Reds held their pride on defense with fine performances by Dan Stuart, Mark Budz, Todd Tennyson, and Shane VanWasshnova. The offense was led by quarterback Par Heath and full-back Tim LaMarr, who supplied a strong running attack. The team displayed their determination with come-back victories over Lincoln and Chelsea. The players and coaches both had a fun and exciting season.

The Girls JV Basketball team, an inexperienced but competitive bunch, didn't have a good win-loss record and finished the season at 6-14. The team played hard, aggressive ball despite their weak shooting said Coach Kurt Dingman. The season started at 4-0 and Holly Maynard set a new J.V. scoring record for most points in a season with 243. Rhonda Wynn and Lisha Cook earned most improved player awards. The co-captains were Holly Maynard and Amy Witten, with Holly also receiving the most valuable player award. The team is looking forward to a more productive season in 1985.

The Milan Girls Varsity Basketball team had a season of ten wins and eleven losses. They started well by winning four of five, were sidetracked by losing eight of nine, and finished hot by winning five of seven. The streaky team's most valuable player was Kelly Riser, who was also a co-captain. The most improved player was Shawn Ross. Rhonda Bates had 214 rebounds, which is the third highest recorded for the school. Michelle Ouellette set a career free throw percentage record by snatching 61% of free throws. The team also set all time records with 799 rebounds and 251 assists. The team did tie for fourth in the SEC by taking five of twelve in the conference.

The Girls Varsity Volleyball Team, coached by Holly Eaton, ended the season with a 18-9 record. The girls improved through each match and showed a great deal of team work. 660% was the team's motto for the year which helped them play like a team. Lisa Breitenwischer and Janice Prieskorn were the team's co-captains. Lisa was the most valuable player and was also the best on offense. Janice was the best defensive player and Connie Markgraff was named most improved player.

JV VOLLEYBALL

The 1984-85 season for the JV Volleyball team was a learning experience for everyone. There was a definite improvement throughout the year, and even though it wasn't a winning season, the team had a lot of fun.

The girls played in two tournaments, the first of which they missed the quarter finals at Bishop Borgess by one game. They didn't do as well at the Bedford tournament, coming home without any wins.

The coach, Shelley Burch, believes that with lots of hard work the team will be much better next year.

JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADING

This year's football and basketball squad of junior varsity cheerleaders put in a fine team effort-the end product was a squad full of enthusiasm, great precision, and tremendous talent. The crowd will agree they are an excellent group of girls with great potential.

They not only had a fine season of cheerleading, they also did many special spirit boosters for the players, they made posters for their lockers as well as after game snacks, and spirit banners for the players to run through.

Though cheerleaders don't have a win-loss record. There is no doubt they had a winning season.

VARSITY CHEERLEADING

This year's football varsity squad did a fine job of spreading Big Red Spirit through the crowd. They started a new tradition-the pre-game spirit tunnel. They were in charge of the Homecoming assembly and posters contest. They also held a homecoming breakfast for the players on game day. All of their cheers were sharply performed, and they lead the crowd in chants. The basketball squad was made up of eight girls and six guys. This enabled them to incorporate a variety of difficult mounts and college-like partner stunts into their cheers.

Linda Speer and Connie Dillinger thought that it would be nice to have a drill squad for school spirit and entertainment.

They put their thoughts into motion by going to Mr. Brinklow with an outline of what they wanted to do. They were instructed to get opinions from Mrs. Ray, the cheerleading coach; Mr. Sangster, the band director; and Mr. Hahn, the athletic director.

All agreed that this would be a favorable addition to our school. They organized practice dates; found sponsors, Mr. Bradley and Mrs. VanWasshnova; and held tryouts, judged by faculty members.

The squad performed at three games and a regional competition during their first year.

BOY'S SWIMMING

The Milan Boys Swim Team successfully defended last year's state title with an impressive 132 points. Juniors Ron Greenleaf and Jim O'Donnell were this year's most valuable players, and co-captains. Sam Richter was most improved while Jay Broadhurst won the coaches' award. Mike Manik was this year's top freshman. Milan's free relay swam a fast 3:17.1 which qualified them for the junior nationals in New York. Milan's three seniors, Mike Cullip, Chris Bodenschatz, and Darryl Gibson, were an important part of both championship teams. Coach Lott was named Michigan Swimming Coach of the Year.

FRESHMEN AND JV BASKETBALL

The JV basketball team was led by freshman Pat Heath with 182 points, 124 rebounds, and junior Bruce Williams with 160 points and 44 assists. Overall the team improved their basketball skills in the second half of the season with fine performances against league foes Tecumseh, Lincoln, and Saline. This year each member of the team worked very hard to earn a spot on next year's varsity squad.

Burly Brierly

1985 wasn't the best year for the varsity baseball team, but they did have a decent season finishing with a 4-21 record. Milan participated in two tournaments doing well at both and played two doubleheaders. There were eight seniors out for the team and Greg Brierly, Steve Tennyson, and Scott Redmon were co-captains.

In 1986 the team should be in good shape with nine underclassmen and Coach Ron Mercier returning for the season.

The drive for five was alive in 1985 for the girls track team. They were successful in obtaining their fifth consecutive S.E.C. league championship this year. Along with this, the puddle jumpers had a 12-1 overall dual meet record standing, captured third place at their Regional meet, and did well at various invitational.

Anjer DeLaine qualified for the state meet in the 200m dash and the 400m dash and was on the state qualifying 800m relay team. Other members of the relay were Brenda Sheats, Tina Wynn, and Trudie Sabo. Vicki Vogel also qualified for the state meet in the shotput and the discus.

Undercover

The 1985 Varsity Softball team had many obstacles to overcome this year, but they still came out looking good with an overall record of 1 and 23. The team was small with only 14 members, nine of these being seniors. Also, a new coach was in control. Former softball star Linda Armstrong came back to Milan to be in the stands instead of in front of the plate.

The team had much success in improving form and developing softball skills. Coach Armstrong says her whole team "built up character and this is the most important aspect of playing any sport."

Next season, there will be five returning players and a whole crop of talent moving up from the Junior Varsity softball team.

The offense of the junior varsity softball team was the team's best asset in the 1985 season. Four players had batting averages over .300. Cindy Rymanowicz led the team with a batting average of .423, Cheryl Howard's was .371, Kim Bowler's was .360, and Dawn Beasley's was .357. Overall, the team's record standing was 4-11.

Pam Meingasner, lead pitcher, was named most valuable player and co-captain, Amy Wirren, received the most spirited award. The other captain, Julie Heath, hit the only grand slam homerun of the season. Cindy Rymanowicz had the best hustle and Chauntel Gray and Gwen Williams had the best attitudes throughout the season.

A large, stylized graphic of a mountain peak composed of the word 'ACTIVITIES' repeated many times in a triangular arrangement, set against a dark, starry background. The word 'ACTIVITIES' is written in a bold, white, sans-serif font. The letters are arranged in a way that they form the silhouette of a mountain, with the base being the widest and the peak being the narrowest. The background is black with numerous small white dots, resembling a starry night sky. The overall effect is one of a vast, open landscape.

SKI CLUB

A new group was formed at the high school this year. It was the ski club headed by Mr. Mercier. It attracted all different skill levels of skiers, from the nimble snow bunnies to the tumbling beginners. They traveled every Wednesday to Alpine Valley near Brighton to tackle the slopes. Lessons were given to those who needed them, while the more experienced skiers went straight to the lifts. Even though the advanced skiers said they had a blast, anyone watching could tell the beginners were having more fun. They spent more time grabbing tow ropes, falling off ski lifts and brushing snow off their faces than they did snow plowing down hills. But whether it was their first time or their hundredth, everyone enjoyed the trips a lot.

HAT DAY

This year student council sponsored a hat day. With the purchase of a hat license students were allowed to wear their favorite hat throughout the day. The cost was 25¢ per license. There was an enormous turnout with a large variety of different and unusual hats.

POWDER-PUFF GAME

Grid iron girls.

A powder-puff game was sponsored by the student council this year. It gave the girls a chance to be the ruff and ruff football players and the boys got the opportunity to cheer them on. The senior-freshmen girls fought against the sophomore-junior team. The game ended with a senior-freshmen victory of 14-12. It was a close game and everyone had an exciting and enjoyable time.

SPIRIT WEEK

The homecoming game and ceremony were preceded by a fun-filled week. From October 15th to October 19th the students were given the opportunity to show school and class spirit. On Monday the students dressed in the dark and mismatched their clothes. Tuesday a breeze of warm air came over the school for Hawaiian and sunglasses day. Pajamas were worn and stuffed animals were carried on Wednesday. Girls received ribbons on Thursday and refrained from speaking to any guys or their ribbon would be transferred to that male. As the week concluded the students were advised to flaunt their school colors. Although the whole school displayed a lot of spirit, the seniors edged the sophomores, having the greatest number of participants, and won spirit week. The poster contest was also won by the class of 1985.

PEP ASSEMBLY

The homecoming pep assembly, led by the cheerleaders, was attended by students on Friday, October 14th. At the assembly Laura Hower and Matt Gruden were acknowledged as winners of the legs contest. The senior baby contest winners were Julie Spurr and Scott Redman. The class of 1986 showed the most spirit as the pep assembly and received the jug. The guy who received the most ribbons and therefore titled Mr. Irresistible was sophomore Jason DeWolfe.

HOMECOMING PARADE

The Marching Big Reds led the homecoming parade from Paddock to the Middle School. Behind them rode the queen candidates, followed by the floats. The theme for homecoming was Prime Time for the Big Reds. The seniors chose a "Big Reds-Pity Da Fools." The juniors went with "Roast 'Em Reds." Agreed upon by the sophomores was "Cruise to Victory," while "Red Thunder" was selected by the freshman. During halftime, the senior float was revealed as the winner. It was followed by the sophomore, freshman, and junior floats respectively.

HOMECOMING GAME

The fans huddled together in the stands and along the fence wearing heavy coats, mittens, and hats as they watched the Big Reds play a cautious game against Class A Milford. The Big Red's score remained at zero until they made a courageous comeback in the fourth quarter leading to a fine score of 14 to 8 in favor of Milford.

FALL PRODUCTION

OUR TOWN

This year's Fall play production was Our Town. The play was about ordinary people in a small New England town at the turn of the century. It showed the reality of life in a small town. The play had no scenery and a character called "Stage Manager" controlled the action of the play. It was a challenge to the actors as well as to the viewers. It left room for the imagination and enabled viewers to interpret it to their own meanings. It was an excellent performance by everyone who participated.

SPRING PLAY

THE CURIOUS SAVAGE

The Curious Savage, a play written by John Patrick, was about Mrs. Savage, a widow who had placed 10 million dollars of her late husband's money in bonds and had secretly hidden them in a red-dy bear. Placed in a sanitarium by her family, she became fond of the other residents. It was in this resthome she learned there was more to a person than what's on the outside.

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY

The Christmas Assembly was organized by the student council. The theme was the "Gong Show". Students voluntarily dressed up to imitate either their favorite singers or comedians. The acts ranged from the Unknown Comic to an excellent solo by Brenda Logwood. Representatives from each sport were chosen to participate in a tug-of-war. Congratulations to all who participated in the assembly, it was a job well done.

COMING HOME SPIRIT WEEK

The three strooges

"Hey Al, why'd the chicken cross the road?"

"C" is for cookie . . .

"Go . . . go Big Reds"

Coming Home was a confused week, but it was still full of spirit. The freshman class had the most participation. Mother Nature wasn't very cooperative though, piling up enough snow to close school and reduce spirit week to three days. "Warming up to a Victory" was Tuesday's theme and everyone wore sweats, while on Wednesday everyone wore their favorite hat because the theme was "Our Team is Tops". Thursday, the Big Reds were lookin' fine, as the theme said, wearing their Sunday best. Unfortunately, the originally scheduled assembly, organized by Mrs. Reed's fifth hour government class, had to be canceled also on account of Mother Nature.

The King and His court

The height of our Coming Home half-time activities was the crowning of our new king, Eric McGovern. There were ten guys that participated in the ceremony. Representatives of the freshman class were Jay Jewell and Mike McCloud. Sharik Frierson and Jay Broadhurst were the two top Sophomores, while Matt Gruden and Mike Hayes were the Junior's picks. The Senior candidates were Tim Kilbarger, Lance Barnes, Erik McGovern and Greg Brierly.

PROM

I can't stop this feeling.

The happy couple.

Sitting pretty.

"You're The Inspiration" by Chicago was the theme for this year's prom. The dinner dance was held at the Ann Arbor Inn on April 20th. The Ball room was decorated with dark blue, light blue, and cream. The D.J. was Spindle Sounds. He played the favorite songs requested by the prom goers. In conclusion the prom was a smashing success.

GRADUATION

Graduation was held June 2, at 3:00 and lasted until 4:30. The class colors were red and black. The Senior Ensemble sang three songs: "Greatest Love of All", "Out Here on My Own", and "It's My Turn". The first was a duet by Densie Gregory and Wayland Gore. The second was sung by the Senior Ensemble with solos by Renea Thompson and Darlene Walker. The last was a solo by Brenda Logwood. Anjer DeLaine accompanied the seniors on the piano for all three songs. The class motto was "We know not what the future holds, but we know who holds the future." Each senior received a red rose from a marshal as they descended the stairs.

DEAR FRIEND

I don't know if I show it, or if you know it.

I know I don't say it, but I think you feel it.

It's quite plain to see, if you look, it's there, in everything I say and do.

Sometimes I may not act like it, or talk like it, but I do,

I really do.

You may not believe it sometimes, or want to.

But it's true.

It's hard to say and hard to consciously show.

Without feeling awkward, embarrassed, and sometimes stupid.

But I do mean it, really.

You may not understand what I'm trying to say.

'Cause you see, I'm just not very good with words.

And I really want you to understand just how I feel.

It's just that . . .

I care.

Jeanne Cloutier

THE CLOCK

The clock on the classroom wall is perhaps the most studied object of all. In every room of every school across the nation we find twenty-seven pairs of glazed eyes staring emptily at its face. As the red pointer smoothly marks off the seconds, each student eagerly counts them and awaits dismissal time. The teacher's lecture drones on, but the pupils are in another world, hypnotized.
Each eternal minute passes. Then, at long last, the bell rings, and the clock is forgotten by the students until the next period; then, the cycle begins again, regularly . . . almost, you might say, like clockwork.

Peter Busch

"Will He Show Lady?"

Listen Lady forever now.

You're my pleasure,

You really know how;

To live a life strong and proud,

And take a measure within bounds.

You're my Lady I hope it's true.

Eyeful contact,

With honesty too;

Makes a life worth living now,

And experimenting to find out how.

Lady, Lady grow with me,

Learn by magic,

Not from see.

Trust your judgement to conclude;

The struggles in which we both go through.

Happiness will never end,

As long as we control our own end.

Keep the pep and the love,

Where I can see it,

My Lady dove.

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is laughter and it is tears.
It can be a short time,
or last many years.

Friendship is happy,
and it is sad.
But good friends rarely stay mad.

Friendship is rocky and it is smooth.
But a good friend
is there to sooth.

Friendship is true . . .

Friendship is you.

If I could travel anywhere I'd travel beyond my time
I'd sail and fly and glide within the mysteries of the mind
I'd become a race car driver or be an astronaut
Or slay dragons beside King Arthur in the fabled Camelot
I'd swing on branches to and fro
And next, do you know . . .
I would be the milkman on The Cosby Show.
The mind is a wonderful place to travel with no transportation
No need for cars or passports, just a little Imagination.

LOST IN TOMORROW

I'm surrounded
By people, but no one is around.
I need someone desperately,
I imagine a world of mine
a day of time.
I talk to the uncivilized people.
They hear but don't listen.
They talk without words.
They sing without songs.
I stare at some of the people.
But they see without sight.
They glance without eyes.
These people aren't for me.
Where are my people?
I come to think, they're here
But lost in the future.

TENDER YEARS

Through the years we've made close friends and had good times.

The classes in school may not be the best, but teachers are there to help.

Many may seem not to care, but if you're in need, you'll find a fast friend.

The years in school may not always seem great, but the memories make them sweet.

So as you grow older and move away,
Never forget the tender years.

1985 IN REVIEW

MISS AMERICA

The Miss America Pageant set many records this year. The first black Miss America, Vanessa Williams, was the first Miss America to lose her crown due to a bad publicity scandal. Miss Suzette Charles stepped up to become the second black Miss America. Miss Charles had the shortest reign - 7½ weeks, and was also the shortest Miss America at 5' 2" tall.

RUSSIA

The Russian leader, Chernenko, passed away this year at the age of 73. The Soviets have not been able to keep anyone on the top for a substantial amount of time since Brezhnev. Three of their leaders have died in a 28 month span. Whenever the leader dies or is very ill, they keep it very secretive and don't release the information to the public until much later. Gorbachev, the new leader, is only 54 years old and is the youngest leader in six decades. The U.S. is hoping that a new era is dawning in the Soviet Union, and that this untried leader will be more willing to attend summit meetings with our leaders.

POPULAR SINGERS

What a year for music this has been! The two singers that have swept the nation this past year have been Prince and Madonna. Prince was featured in his own movie, Purple Rain. This produced a soundtrack that remained on top of the charts for many months. "When Doves Cry", "Let's Go Crazy", and the title cut proved to be the chartbusters during the year. Prince also has a song on the "We Are the World" album and has just released his latest album,

"Around the World in a Day". Prince picked up several music awards this year and also received an Oscar for his work on the soundtrack, "Purple Rain". Madonna appeared in films this past year. She had a minor acting part in Vision Quest and had the leading role in Desperately Seeking Susan. She released songs from both of these movies and also from her two albums "Madonna" and "Like A Virgin". Prince and Madonna are usually viewed as controversial by the public. Prince is disliked for his lyrics and dress, while Madonna is loathed for her dance and dress. All the same, the public keeps listening, singing, and buying. This keeps Prince and Madonna on top of the popular list once again.

CAROLINE O'DONNELL

Caroline O'Donnell, a nurse who took her work at University Hospital seriously, was only 40 years old when she developed hepatitis and passed away July 31, 1984. She was a very special person who displayed an enthusiasm for life which manifested itself in her family, her nursing career and her community. Her concern for mankind made it possible for her to reach out to many people and it is in this spirit that a medical scholarship was established in her name.

PONTIAC SILVERDOME

The Pontiac Silverdome has had a rough season; rougher than the teams that play there. Ceiling panels broke and fell due to an ice storm. While construction workers were attempting to amend the damage, winds overtook most of the panels that were left and practically destroyed the whole roof. Falling debris ruined many seats and other material inside the dome. The Detroit Pistons, as well as all concerts and other shows had to either cancel or move to different locations such as Cobo Hall or Joe Louis Arena. Millions of dollars and a lot of time are being spent remodeling the unfortunate dome. Completion will be done so that the Detroit Lions can start their season in the rebuilt structure.

DETROIT TIGERS

The Detroit Tigers took the World Championship in baseball for the first time since 1968. It was no surprise since they remained in first place in the east division of the American League all season. They are only the third team to have stayed on top from day one. Sparky Anderson has now had world champion teams in both leagues. They defeated the San Diego Padres four games to one in the World Series. It was an exceptional year for Morris, Trammell, Parrish, Whiraker, Lemon, Hernandez, and the rest of the successful crew.
